Bibliography
Sorted by Call Number / Author.

A detailed analysis of nearly sixty thinkers from all of the major Eastern philosophical traditions of India, the Middle East, and the Far East including Hinduism, Buddhism, Islam, and Confucianism.

A guide to the teachings, history, and practices of Islam and its influence on current world affairs.

Eighteen essays examine Islam from its origins with the prophet Muhammad to the current Muslim revival; issues such as Islamic theology and doctrine; the religion's contribution to math, science, and art; and the experiences of American Muslims are discussed.

Examines the historical, social, and cultural roles of Islamic women in the Middle East, from ancient to modern times.

Discusses the extraordinary scientific discoveries and advancements in the Islamic world after the birth of Mohammed in 570 and their impact on Western civilization in subsequent centuries and today.

Umayyad Art -- Abbasids of Baghdad -- Umayyads of Spain -- Fatimids -- Art of Seljuk Turks in Iran -- Art of the Atabeks and the Ayyubids -- Mongol Period -- Mamluk Art -- Nasrid Art in Spain -- Timurid Period -- Art of the Ottoman Turks -- Safavid Iran -- Islamic Art in India.

This book discusses the high-profile crusades of the Middle Ages that were against the Muslims in the east, from the Council of Clermont in 1095 to the fall of Acre in 1291, and includes the historical background to the expeditions.

Describes daily life in the Christian West and Muslim East during the three centuries of holy war, analyzing why the armies of Christendom engaged in the Crusades and what they hoped to accomplish.
Covers the civilization of the Islamic Empire from the last years of the eighth century to the thirteenth century.

The Harappan Civilization -- Ancient empires -- Medieval kingdoms -- The Mughals -- The British Raj -- The freedom struggle -- India after independence. Presents a map-oriented look at the history of India, covering the Harappan civilization, ancient empires and medieval kingdoms, the Mughals, the British Raj, the struggle for freedom, and independent India. Includes a time line and glossary.

Chronicles the history of the Mogul dynasty from its rise in the sixteenth century to its decline in the nineteenth century; includes information on the Mogul emperors and the paintings, architecture, culture, and politics of the time.

History: from nomads to sultans -- Cultural history: the peak -- The age of Suleyman the Magnificent -- Belief system: the Turks and Islam -- Beliefs and society: putting their stamp on the empire -- The legacy of the Ottomans: a 600-year-old state whose influence lives on. Examines the history, culture, religion, society, and achievements of the Ottoman Empire, from its tribal origins in the 1200s to its decline in the early twentieth century.

Relates the life of the founder of Islam who experienced several visions where he received prophetic calls which became the basis for the Koran. He eventually united all the tribes of Arabia under his leadership.

The beginning : before the revelations -- A messenger for God -- The early Muslims meet with opposition -- Hijra, the flight to Yathrib (Medina) -- Jihad, holy war -- The return to Mecca -- The final years. Profiles the life of Muhammad and his founding of the religion known as Islam.

A 22-volume, highly illustrated, A-Z general encyclopedia for all ages, featuring sections on how to use World Book, other research aids, pronunciation key, a student guide to better writing, speaking, and research skills, and comprehensive index.

Chronological guide to the principle theoretical ideas of the great thinkers of China, India, Japan, Korea, and the world of Islam, including a list of major works, and explanation of significant ideas and theories, for each entry.

World eras. : rise and spread of Islam, 622-1500. Detroit, Mich. : Gale, 2002. World events -- Geography -- The arts -- Communication, transportation, and exploration -- Social class system and the economy -- Politics, law, and the military -- Leisure, recreation, and daily life -- Family and social trends -- Religion and philosophy -- Science, technology, and health. Examines major civilizations that have flourished from antiquity to modern times, with a global perspective and a strong emphasis on daily life and social history. This volume provides in-depth coverage of the rise and spread of Islam, 622-1500.