E-Book Exploration

You can work in pairs, but please be thoughtful (and unique!) with your answers 😊

In your browser, go to: http://ricat.net

Click on “Chester Barrows Elementary School Library”
Click on the rather big “Click here to visit the LibGuide”
Click on the tab for “E Book Resources” (or you could stay on the main LibGuide page)

Please look at the information for Tumblebooks, StarWalkKids Media and Arbordale Books. The user name and password information is there for StarWalk and Arbordale (Tumblebooks is a direct link)

1. Check out Tumblebooks. There are listings for story books, non fiction, chapter books, classics, etc.

Explore. Write down four book titles that you might want to read over the holiday break

_____________________________________________________________________
_____________________________________________________________________
_____________________________________________________________________
_____________________________________________________________________

2. Look at Starwalk Kids Media. See how you can search for title, author, keyword, or browse. Starwalk is especially strong in non fiction.

Explore. Write down four book titles that you might want to read over the holiday break

_____________________________________________________________________
_____________________________________________________________________
_____________________________________________________________________
_____________________________________________________________________
3. Look at Arbordale Books. Arbordale books are strong in nature stories and picture book non fiction. The illustrations are amazing.

Explore. Write down four book titles that you might want to read over the holiday break

EXTRA CREDIT: When you go home, show your family the e-book collections we have here at Barrows. Have them either send me an email at sroser@cpsed.net, or fill out the e-book book response form on the LibGuide located under the Library Tab (last item—it looks like this)

Here’s the survey. Fill it out for each e-book you read and be entered in a monthly drawing for a free book!

Happy Holidays, Everyone!